One Fall Afternoon

One summer day in August of 1988, Shifty, Tammy Miner, and Michelle Haggstrom departed for a Yearbook seminar at Westfield State College. While waiting to check into their rooms, they breezed through the itinerary planned for the following three days. When they finally got the keys to their rooms, they carried in enough luggage to last for two weeks.

After getting settled, Tammy and Michelle were two of the first people ready to eat. When supper was finished, they enthusiastically set to work on coming up with ideas for a theme. They met with the helpful Arnie Lohmann, their Yearbook consultant, who discussed various opinions and deadlines. The group attended several intense classes dealing with layout, copy, and all the other aspects that contribute to the creation of a yearbook. Tammy and Michelle went over and over unlimited possibilities and it seemed that the more they thought about the theme, the more overwhelmed they became.

As most seminars, these three days were not completely filled with putting together a yearbook. Michelle and Tammy had fun creating their own ice cream sundaes and watching Good Morning Vietnam in the school's auditorium. Also, during Monte Carlo night, Shifty enjoyed being a black jack dealer while Tammy and Michelle gambled away their play money.

When the seminar came to a close, Tammy, Michelle, and Shifty realized the task that they had ahead of them. Although they left Westfield without a definite theme, they knew that they would decide on something sooner or later. It happened on a fall afternoon in yearbook. Yearbook members examined the changes in their school and finally came to a conclusion. This small group of students put their ideas together and arrived at the theme of New and Improved.

VARSITY FIELD HOCKEY

After a disappointing 1987 season and the loss of our previous coach, none of us knew just what to expect on the first day of practice in August. No one could have predicted three boys trying out for the team or Coach Pam's workouts! But after that first big win over Algonquin, no one would have asked for anything different. We were fighting for pride, not points and the score didn't matter as long as we did it "together"!

The talent was obvious. Through Cristi's breakaways, Jen's scoring, Tamra's tenacious defense, and Keith's ability to be anywhere at the same time F.H.S. field hockey found the winning touch. But Pam never let our winning ways go to our heads. Just when we would get a little bit lazy she'd run us back in shape and make us realize we weren't invincible.

Ironically, our success on the field was eventually overshadowed by the politics of Interscholastic Athletics. Despite our record of 12-2-4, our co-ed status eliminated us from post-season play except in a co-ed tournament. But when no other co-ed team qualified our 1988 season was ended and so were many of the seniors "field hockey careers."

Soccer

The soccer program at F.H.S. was brought back to the school three years ago. Through the participation of talented soccer players of the school, the team has received recognition of its fine performances in the district. Through the hard work and dedication of Coach Martin Aristequi and Assistant Dick Lavers the team has made tremendous improvements.

The seasons schedule posted 18 games involving 5 district final teams. The coaches believed that the players possessed great talent and were ready to apply them into the games scheduled. During games both coaches found themselves repeating, "You can beat this team, you just have to believe in yourself!" It seemed as if the team would become intimidated when we were up against a better team. This is where the inexperience came in. Showing great improvement during the season, F.H.S. defeated teams that have always beaten them before.

Girl's Soccer

This year a new team appeared on the playing field, namely Girl's Soccer. The team got off to a rough start, no coach, no schedule, and lots of inexperience. Since it was the girls first season having their own team, things weren't very organized. Amy Giguere, who plays left wing, says, "We started too late in the season to play a high school schedule and we didn't have a coach."

With the help of the boys coaches, one appeared on the field one day. All the girls interviewed spoke very highly of Raul Berhouet, their coach. "Raul made everything fair. All the girls get to play, unlike last year when mostly boys played,," said Marisa Filice, who played forward.

The girls played only two games, winning one and losing one. Girls soccer is up and coming and they hope to have a better start now that a team has been established.

Boy's Varsity Basketball

From the District Champions in 1988, to being knocked out in the first round of this years District play is a very big change for this years edition of Raider Basketball. It looked like a rebuilding year, having lost four of the five starters to graduation.

Led by returning starters Nick Pappas and Darren Bennett, the Raiders were able to give Coach Grutchfield his 400th win as a high school coach against arch rival St. Bernard's in its home opener.

The remainder of the season proved interesting with F.H.S. showing new Midland League opponents that they were the team to beat for the Division Championship, while fellow C.M.C. opponents already knew of Fitchburgs' fine tradition.

The Raiders were able to win the League Championship in their first year of Midland League play. While only losing Senior Captain Nick Pappas to graduation, the future looks bright for the boys basketball team.

COOKIE SPIRIT

On a fall evening late in October, the city of Fitchburg held a celebration. Crocker Field was aglow from the new lighting system and the stands were filled with smiling faces. In the parking lot of FHS the Cookie Monster, created by FHS students, family, and friends, awaited his big presentation.

Queen Megan Stephens and King Bill Vautour were seated regally upon the beautifully decorated float. The FHS marching band was ready to step off, and the police were on hand to escort the Cookie Monster and students to Crocker Field. Leaving Academy Street, traveling down Prichard Street, and turning onto Main Street, the band, cheerleaders, Homecoming Court, and Flag Squad slowly made their way to the Upper Common. The students were greeted by hundreds of on-lookers and flashing cameras. The Queens court: Cheryl Destroismaisons, Norma Rameau, Amy Ferris, Julie Dockery, Jennifer Brooks, and Annica Ambrose looked sensational as they waved to their family and friends. The girls were escorted by Jerry Albizu, Vu Vo, Craig Cucchiara, Dennis Gagne, Steve Brodeur, John Fitch, and Mike Cote — who looked very sharp in their sports jackets.

All in all, the parade was great fun, and as the band neared Crocker Field, fans cheered wildly with FHS spirit. Even though the football team suffered a loss, Homecoming 1988 was a splendid evening. P.S. The Cookie Monster had a great time.

Boost 'um up!

Every Thursday evening in the fall, cross-country runners, field hockey players, and others gather together in the cafeteria to make posters. These students, known as the Booster Club, create original posters to support the Fitchburg High football team. Through the efforts of Fred Sullivan, they are supplied with various colors of paint and brushes. Each person helps by trying to think of new ideas for the posters and by getting down on his/her hands and knees to paint. The members rush to get their posters done on time and carefully sign their names on their creations when finished. On Friday, when the football players enter the cafeteria, they are welcomed by poster-covered walls of encouragement.

During a late evening at Booster Club, Stephanie Trodello and Suzanne Bernatche put the finishing touches on a poster by signing their names.

Rock The House

Marcie Nogueira dresses up in bandages and a FHS football jersey to present an image of the injured Gary Pierce.

On the day before Thanksgiving, Fitchburg High students "rocked the house" in the school's auditorium. Each class performed a skit to support and psych up the football players for the following day. The freshman skit, entitled "Wheel of Misfortune," included impersonations of Pat Sajak and Vanna White. The sophomores presented their own version of the MTV show "Remote Control." The show came complete with a laughing guy and a miniature Colin Quinn. "A Nightmare on Academy Street," was performed by the junior class. The students set up a replica of Fred Sullivan's room and chanted that it was not safe to fall asleep in "Freddie's" class.

The senior class members encouraged the team in their own way. The senior girls portrayed Fitchburg High football players in a fashion show, while the boys imitated Leominster High cheerleaders. The senior guys received applause when they jogged on stage with balloon stuffed shirts, smeared on lipstick, and sexy outfits.

Also performing during the rally were the Varsity Cheerleaders, high school band, and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. The Varsity Cheerleaders presented a dance, performed high-spirited cheers, and accompanied the band in numbers such as "Tequila" and "Georgia On My Mind." In addition to these pieces, the band played the school's traditional Wisconsin, Illinois, Notre Dame, and Mr. Touchdown songs. The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders put together a McDonald's football rap to praise the Fitchburg football players.

After all of the performances, the football players were individually introduced by Coach Romano. Applause could be heard loudly as each player rose onto the stage. When Fitchburg's team left the auditorium that morning, they were filled with pride, spirit, and a sense of achievement.

About Face!

"Heels — together, shoulders — back, heads — up," could be heard lucidly as soon as the 1988-89 band rehearsals began. Under the direction of Carlton Thorne, the Fitchburg High School Band unified movement with musical sound.

During home football games, the band was able to display its efforts. The band performed during Pre-game, Half-time, and from the stands. Some of the 1988-89 Half-time selections included "Spanish Fire," "Georgia On My Mind," and "Montero." More familiar songs such as "Bad," "Do-Wah-Diddy," and "Tequila" created a cheerful atmosphere. The band also performed in the Veterans' Day Parade, Memorial Day Parade, and various community activities.

Even when the weather wasn't up to par, the band performed to uphold its reputation. Though wet and cold, the band still managed to present a positive aspect of Fitchburg High School to the city. The band proved once again to be a proud, distinguished group.

Attention!

Every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon (during football season) a small group of girls meet to practice their routine. With the help of Ms. Gilbride, these flag squad members perfect their movements so that they will coincide with the band. On Friday evenings, the flag squad displays its efforts by accompanying the high school band to Crocker Field. The flag squad marches on the field with the band during pre-game an half-time. While the footba games are in progress, thes students cheer for their foot ball team from the covere stand. The flag squad also pa ticipated in parades and othe band-related functions. Spaghetti Supreme

On December 7, 1988, band members and their parents piled into the high school cafeteria to prepare a spaghetti supper. Starting from scratch, everyone worked eagerly to complete a meal before the customers arrived. Tossed salad was offered as an appetizer before the main dish was served. Punch or coffee came with the meal to wash down the spaghetti and meatballs. In addition, dessert was laid out on trays for those who wanted something sweet to eat.

Also during the spaghetti supper, a bake sale was held by the Band Parents' Association. Various types of cakes, cookies, and brownies were contributed for sale. The students and parents who participated enjoyed the evening and were satisfied with the customer turnout. All of the proceeds from the bake sale and supper went to the band fund which brought the band one step closer to California in the Spring of 1989.

In The Spirit!

Fitchburg High celebrated its annual Christmas Fair on December 22, 1988. Christmas spirit was in the air as the student body gathered in the cafeteria to celebrate the true meaning of the season. Whether participating in the slam dunk contest, playing the dart game, or testing the odds in a raffle, everyone was able to have a good time. Santa Claus even took time out of his busy schedule to have a few pictures taken.

Everyone contributed to the fair's success by selling novelties or baked goods, getting involved in activities, and eating ice cream sundaes supplied by the Drama Club. E.S.L. sold handcrafted ornaments, while S.A.D.D. sold puppets which made great Christmas gifts. The yearbook staff did its part by serving refreshments. As usual, the Christmas fair was a big hit and continues to be an important tradition at Fitchburg High School.

Snowy Slopes

At the beginning of the 1988 winter season, Mr. Berthiaume took time out of his schedule to organize a ski club. Anyone who was interested in skiing and capable of paying the fees could participate in the six week program. Students with little or no experience were given the opportunity to take lessons. Others, familiar with skiing techniques, were able to indulge in the snowy slopes.

As soon as school let out on Wednesday afternoons, student skiers loaded their heavy equipment onto buses. After a long day of school, the students were glad that they had a chance to be with their friends. They talked eagerly with each other and were never able to keep still on the ride up to Mount Wachussett Ski Area. Upon arrival, the ski club members were allowed to spend three exuberating hours on the slopes. For the most part, the students had a good time and enjoyed being part of the ski club.

COMING TO LIFE

Raggedy Ann and Andy, Grandpa, the twin baby dolls, Bruin Bear, Suzy Pincushion, and Mechanico are a family of dolls who belong to the lovely little girl Marcella. On Marcella's birthday she receives a beautiful French doll named Babette. As soon as Marcella leaves her room on the morning of her birthday, the dolls magically come to life to greet their new friend Babette. Babette is "a regular pill" when the other dolls welcome her, and she declares that she is going to go back to "Paree". After Raggedy Ann tells Babette that she is Marcella's birthday present, Babette decides to stay since it is her duty as a French doll.

Later that evening, Babette gets captured by Prince Leonard and Lester — two Loonies from Loonie Land. When the other dolls discover that Babette is missing, Raggedy Ann and Andy bravely wander off into the "deep, deep woods" to find her. Along their way they befriend an abandoned camel whom they want to take home with them. The three friends come across many obstacles including Witch Wigglewort, who misguides the Raggedys and tricks the camel into going home with her, and the Greedy Bag, who wants Ann's candy heart. In the end Raggedy Ann's goodness prevails and the Raggedys save Babette and the blue camel from the clutches of evil. Everyone knows that goodness always conquers evil, at least that's how it is in fairy tales . . .

Colophon

The Boulder is an Annual Publication by the Yearbook Staff of Fitchburg High School, Fitchburg, Massachusetts 01420. It was distributed in August 1989.

The Boulder was printed by Hunter Publishing Co., Winston-Salem, N.C. Number of copies was 300. This volume, the seventy-seventh, contains 240 pages with a trim size of 8 1/2" x 11", including 8 pages of 4 color. Our cover, which is hardback, was printed in 2 color using the litho process. It was smythe sewn and made on white book cloth with special lamination for protection. The artwork was completed by Hunter Publishing Co., and the original was supplied by a student and advisor. The colors used were blue, white, and black.

The end sheets are #202 Ecru with Blue ink. The first 16 pages are printed on #100 Lustro paper stock, with the remaining 224 pages on #80 pound dull finish papers.

The type is Goudy. The ink is red/black. The estimated total cost of producing this book is $14,000 including supplies. Copies cost $40.00. The Boulder is a self-supporting institution. Candid photos in the Boulder '89 were taken by students on the yearbook staff and by professional photographers of Yearbook Associates, Millers Falls, MA. All developing and printing was done by Yearbook Associates and J&R Photo.

EDITOR'S NOTE

When Michelle and I went to Westfield over the summer we had so many plans for a great yearbook. We looked forward to a lot of participation by the yearbook class, and by the class of '89. The class worked hard, but from 1:12 to 2:00 pm, and then left the rest up to Shifty, Michelle, and myself from 2pm-5pm (if we were lucky). I give a lot of credit to the Yearbook class though, because if it weren't for them we probably would not have a 1989 yearbook. I want to thank Shifty for putting up with the lack of participation, which has left him doing more than an advisor should. I'll never forget all the great times I've had in the last four years, thanks to Shifty, who's inspired me to be outgoing, and to have fun in high school, because it is the best time of your life, as long as you make it that way!
